

A LETTER FROM MAYOR

Jennifer Carroll

The results are in!

Every two years, the Town of Erie conducts a community survey of Erie residents to collect your pulse on where we are excelling as a community and where we need to invest more energy to improve. The 2021 results were just published and I want to highlight a few results that stood out to me.

9/10

My favorite question on the survey, and the one that I believe best encapsulates both the current and future trajectory of our Town is, 'How likely are you to recommend living in Erie to someone who asks?' I was ecstatic, though not surprised, to see that ~9 out of every 10 Erie residents would make the recommendation!

Highlights

Here are a few other highlights:

- 91% of residents ranked Erie as a place to live as excellent or good.
- 89% of residents' sentiment was positive toward the overall quality of life in Erie, the highest since we began collecting these results.
- 25% increase in the overall quality of business and services in Erie since 2019.
- 16% increase in resident sentiment toward the vibrancy of our downtown/commercial areas since 2019.

Improvement areas

In terms of areas where we need to focus and do better, the following stood out to me:

- 45% of residents believe our community is excellent or good at attracting people from diverse backgrounds.
- 58% of residents felt positive about having opportunities to participate in community matters.
- 46% of residents responded favorably to overall opportunities for education, culture, and the arts.

I want to extend a big Thank You to all who made your voice heard in the town survey and helped craft where we invest going forward. I encourage you all to review the data and insights via the Town's online results dashboard at erieco.gov/970.

With gratitude and humility,

Mayor Jennifer Carroll
